Program Notes

Yemaya Asesu

Yemaya Asesu is a traditional sacred chant from the Santeria religion of Cuba, an adaptation of the Yoruba religion of West Africa. Yemaya is one of the many masculine and feminine Orishas, or deities, each of whom personifies a different aspect of nature and humanity—similar to the pantheon of Catholic Saints. Yemaya is a feminine Orisha who represents the maternal force of creation and life itself. Her home is the ocean, and she is considered to be the mother of many other Orishas. "Asesu" is the aspect of Yemaya found at the ocean's surface. In this arrangement, the composer used overlapping voices and rhythm to suggest the hypnotic movement of the waves and tides.

Mi Yitneni Of

Translation: Who will give me wings, even wings of the smallest bird,

Endlessly will I wander to find peace for my wounded soul
