Notes on the Program

Shortcut Home is a rousing and rather elaborate fanfare that features each section of the ensemble. Drawing upon various jazz styles, the music proclaims and cascades, always driving towards the "home" of the final C major chord. (Note from score)

Children's March was scored for band by Grainger in 1919 from a piano solo which he had composed between 1916 and 1918. He began the band arrangement while a member of the U.S. Coast Artillery Band and wrote it to take advantage of that band's instrumentation. Like many of Grainger's works, the march demonstrates both the fierceness and the tenderness of the composer's personality. It was dedicated "to my playmate beyond the hills," believed to be Karen Holton, a Scandinavian beauty with whom the composer corresponded for eight years but did not marry because of his mother's jealousy. (Note by Frederick Fennell)

The unique sounds of Mexican dance salons, which Márquez knew well from childhood can be heard in this work. Danzón No. 2 is so popular it has been referred to as a second national anthem for Mexico. Márquez states: The idea of writing the Danzón No. 2 originated in 1993 during a trip to Malinalco with the painter Andrés Fonseca and the dancer Irene Martínez, both of who are experts in salon dances with a special passion for the danzón. I was fascinated as I started to understand that the apparent lightness of the danzón is only like a visiting card for a type of music full of sensuality and qualitative seriousness, a genre which old Mexican people continue to dance with a touch of nostalgia and a jubilant escape towards their own emotional world. We can fortunately still see this in the embrace between music and dance that occurs in Veracruz and in the dance parlors of Mexico City. (Note by Arturo Márquez)

The word, sanctuary, conjures a rich array of images. It can imply a place of solitude, comfort, rest, prayer, protection. It can suggest a place that is strong and imposing or one that is very small and private. Each of these images are suggested at one point throughout the piece. Sanctuary was commissioned by the Michigan School band and Orchestra Association in honor of H. Robert Reynolds. (Note from the score)

Strange Humors represents merging of musical cultures - the modal melodies and syncopated rhythms of middle Eastern music with the percussive accompaniment of African drumming. At the heart of the work lies the pulse of the djembe, an hourglass-shaped drum played with bare hands. The djembe is a major part of the customs of west African countries such as Mali and Guinea, where djembe ensembles accompany many functional celebrations of society. (Notes from the score)

As this piece (Fanfare for Karel) was written in honor of Karel Husa on the occasion of his passing, all of its material is derived from his classic work "Music for Prague." Interestingly, the opening motive of that piece and of this fanfare is related to Karel's last name as follows: H--is the German letter for our note "B"; U--does not translate to a musical note; S--is the German letter for Es, or our Eb; A--the musical note A. (Note by Dana Wilson)

Old Wine in New Bottles is a [four movement] suite for woodwind, trumpets and horns, written specially for this festival. Each movement is based on an Old English folk song and the free modern treatment of the familiar tunes gives rise to its title. Dr. Gordon Jacob had the St. Bees Festival Orchestra's wind players in mind when he wrote the suite, and in giving every one of them something immensely enjoyable to play, he has written a work of beauty and wit that will enliven these programmes, and unless we are greatly mistaken, many more in the future. (Notes from the 1959 St. Bees Music Festival Souvenir Programme)

It was at the suggestion of Esa-Pekka Salonen that I transcribed this music of Purcell (Funeral Music for Queen Mary) for the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra. I used three of the pieces heard at the funeral of Mary II of England, who died of smallpox on 28 December 1694: a solemn march, the anthem "In the Midst of Life We Are in Death," and a canzona in imitative polyphonic style. In working on the project, I did not try to achieve a pure, musicological reconstruction but, on the contrary, to regard Purcell's music, which I love deeply, through the lens of three hundred intervening years. Thus, although most of this version is straightforward orchestration of the Purcell originals, there are moments when Purcell drifts out of focus. My version was first performed in Los Angeles on 6 February 1992. (Note by Steven Stucky)

Slalom was originally written for orchestra in 1998-99 as a scherzo perpetuo. It was to be a chance to flex my orchestration muscle to a degree I had not yet reached. In 2001 conductor John Lynch was seeking to commission a new work for wind symphony, and we agreed that Slalom could make an attractive addition to the repertoire. Arranging the piece for wind symphony has proven my most astute compositional act to date. Slalom is a taste of the thrill of downhill skiing. The work is performed at a severe tempo throughout, showcasing the orchestra's volatility and endurance. The idea for a piece like this came directly out of a wonderful discovery I made several years ago at Steamboat Springs, Colorado, when I embarked on the mountain-base gondola with a cassette player and headphones. At the time I was treating myself to large doses of Shostakovich's Tenth Symphony and Rachmaninoff's Symphonic Dances. The exhilaration of barreling down the Rockies with such music pumping into my ears was overwhelming. After a few years of skiing with some of the greatest repertoire, it occurred to me that I could customize the experience. The work is presented as a collection of scenes and events one might come by on the slopes. The score is peppered with phrase-headings for the different sections such as "First Run", "Open Meadow, Champagne Powder", "Straight Down, TUCK" and "On One Ski, Gyrating" among others. In this way Slalom shares its programmatic feature with that of Richard Strauss' Alpine Symphony. The similarities end there, however, for Slalom lasts ten minutes...precisely the amount of time I need to get from Storm Peak (the peak of Mt. Werner, Steamboat Springs) to the mountain base, skiing full throttle. (Note by Carter Pann)

Niagara Falls for Symphonic Band was commissioned by the University of Michigan Symphonic Band in honor of its One Hundredth Anniversary and is dedicated to its conductor H. Robert Reynolds. The work was premiered by that ensemble on October 4, 1997 at "Bandarama," conducted by H. Robert Reynolds at Hill Auditorium, Ann Arbor, Michigan. Niagara Falls, a gateway between Canada and the United States, is a mecca for honeymooners and tourists who come to visit one of the most scenic waterfalls in the world. The Niagara River also generates electricity for towns on both sides of the border, where visitors are lured into haunted houses, motels, wax museums, candy stores, and tourist traps, as well as countless stores that sell "Niagara Falls" postcards, T-shirts, and souvenirs. This composition is another souvenir, inspired by my many trips to Niagara Falls. It is a ten-minute musical ride over the Niagara River with an occasional stop at a haunted house or wax museum along the way. Its principal musical motive is a haunting chromatic phrase of four tones corresponding to the syllables of Niagara Falls, and repeated in increasingly gothic proportions. A pulsing rhythm in the timpani and lower brass creates an undercurrent of energy to give an electric charge to the second motive, introduced in musical canons by the upper brass. The saxophones and clarinets introduce another level of counterpoint, in a bluesy riff with a film noir edge. My composition is a meditation on the American Sublime. (Note by Michael Daugherty)

He decided to pursue conducting as a profession after experiencing the artistry of many of the legendary conductors who were in residence at the Aspen Music School. In 2005 Hughes was awarded the Doctor of Musical Arts degree in instrumental conducting and literature at the University of Colorado at Boulder where he was a student of world-renowned conductor and Distinguished Professor Allan McMurray.

Developing an impressive profile that is both national and international, Dr. Hughes has conducted ensembles in concert on four continents including Europe, Asia, Australia and North America. He is also in constant demand as a guest conductor and clinician. Engagements have taken him to several US states, Washington, D.C. and ten foreign countries including England, Ireland, China, Taiwan, Hong Kong, Singapore, and Indonesia. In 2016 the NM State Wind Symphony performed at the John F. Kennedy Center for the Arts in Washington, D.C. as invited guest artists representing the southwest region of the United States. The ensemble performed at the 2014 NM Music Educators Association Convention and, in the October of 2015, gave the world premiere of Symphony No. 1 by Serbian composer Nebojsa Macura.

In addition to numerous performances as Resident Guest Conductor for the Thailand Philharmonic Orchestra, Dr. Hughes led the Mahidol University Wind Symphony in a critically acclaimed performance during the proceedings of the 15th World Saxophone Congress. This subsequently led to an invitation for the musicians to appear as the guest artist ensemble for the Australian National Ensemble Championships. Hughes has conducted at the Southeast Asian Youth Orchestra and Wind Ensemble Festival in Bangkok, Thailand and the Honor Ensemble Festival of the Interscholastic Association of Southeast Asian Schools in Jakarta, Indonesia. Dr. Hughes was honored to serve as guest conductor for the National Symphony Orchestra players of Taiwan during his invited visit to Chiayi City. In 2013 and again in 2014 Hughes ventured to China to conduct the Directors Ensemble of Guangzhou Province and appeared in ShanXi, ShanDong, and Chengdu provinces in as well. Known for his sensitive interpretation of music for large and small instrumental ensembles, Hughes's conducting has drawn praise from composers and conductors in the United States, Canada, Southeast Asia, China, and Australia. A champion of new music, Dr. Hughes has conducted numerous world and regional premieres and he has become a conductor of choice for contemporary works.

Dr. Hughes has, on several occasions, been included in the Who's Who Among America's Teachers publication and, for the past 13 years, he has been listed in Who's Who in America. He was recently honored with induction into Who's Who In The World. Hughes's affiliations include the International Conductor's Guild, College Band Directors National Association, World Association for Symphonic Bands and Ensembles, New York State School Music Association, Phi Mu Alpha (honorary), and Kappa Kappa Psi (honorary).

IC Bands: Ensemble Offerings

Ithaca College School of Music is proud to offer a full complement of large and chamber ensembles. Placement in the entry-level ensembles does not require an audition and any student is welcome to join. Upper level ensembles hold auditions for membership at the beginning of the year and requirements are published well in advance. If you dream of being a professional musician, just enjoy playing an instrument, or anywhere in between, there is a place for you in IC BANDS! Included in the offerings are four distinctive ensembles.

Wind Ensemble* (Dr. Christopher Hughes, Conductor)

The IC Wind Ensemble is a band of 50 highly qualified graduate and undergraduate students, chosen by audition, and performs a varied repertoire of the highest quality literature for winds. Members of the Wind Ensemble will also perform selections of chamber winds repertoire each semester. The Wind Ensemble is dedicated to professional level performance while fostering the musical growth of its members.

Wind Symphony* (Mr. Benjamin Rochford, Interim Conductor)

The IC Wind Symphony is a select ensemble of approximately 60 musicians, chosen by audition. The Wind Symphony exists as a preparatory experience for the Wind Ensemble and provides a challenging musical environment for skilled musicians by performing repertoire that ranges from works for chamber winds, to standards of the band literature, to brand-new works for the wind band medium.

Concert Band (Mr. Benjamin Rochford, Interim Conductor)

The IC Concert Band is an entry-level ensemble for students just beginning the journey to professional level performance. This band provides instruction in ensemble performance skills through quality repertoire that is less challenging for the student, allowing her / him to have time to assimilate knowledge, skills, and attitudes necessary for advancement into the Wind Symphony and Wind Ensemble.

Campus Band (Graduate Wind Conducting Students, Conductors)

The Campus Band is a non-auditioned ensemble designed to meet the needs of students from all majors across campus. Music majors are encouraged to enroll while performing on a secondary instrument. This ensemble provides an educational experience and serves as an outlet for students who wish to remain musically active in a less intense setting. The course will be administered by the Director of Bands and conducted by the graduate conducting associates.
