APPALACHIAN SPRING

Aaron Copland

Walter Ford Hall Auditorium
Sunday, March 24, 1991
3:00 p.m.
Today's concert was at first slated to have performances by two college groups and the featured artist would be pianist Ms. Chizuru Kato. She is still featured today and the college is very proud to sponsor such a fine young talent.

However, Ms. Kato shares the program with someone very important to musicians everywhere, and especially to American musicians—Aaron Copland. When Copland passed away last December, I invited my colleagues here to join the Orchestra on this program as a way of expressing a message of musical remembrance. I am very grateful that Professors Dunnick, Housholder and their students have joined us on this program of tribute, and I'm sure that our sounds today will pay an honest, heartfelt tribute to the composer.
