Lawrence Doebler is a professor in the Ithaca College School of Music, where he serves as director of choral activities. Currently in his 22nd year at the College, his duties include conducting the choir, chorus, madrigal singers, and choral union and teaching undergraduate and graduate conducting, choral techniques, and choral literature.

Early training in keyboard, strings, voice, and brass led to degrees in conducting for Doebler from Oberlin Conservatory and Washington University in St. Louis. He began his professional career in 1969 at Smith College. From 1971 to 1978, he taught and conducted at the University of Wisconsin–Madison. In 1979 he founded the Ithaca College Choral Composition Contest and Festival; the project has fostered over one hundred performances by outstanding high school choirs of works by international composers who were finalists in the competition. During his years at the School of Music, Doebler has become known for his use of movement in rehearsals and concerts, based on the principles of Jacques Dalcroze. His ensembles have performed in numerous workshops at regional and national professional conventions with middle school and high school students, college students, and professional ensembles on tour.

Doebler has received awards for research and teaching excellence. In addition to his academic appointments, he has served as director of music at churches in Cleveland, St. Louis, Madison, and Ithaca, and he directs Ithaca’s professional Cayuga Vocal Ensemble. His works as an editor of choral music of the Renaissance and other periods are published in the Roger Dean catalog of Lorenz Publishing.

Patrick Hansen is music director of opera and musical theater at Ithaca College, where he has conducted Albert Herring, Orpheus in the Underworld, Babes in Arms, and Little Shop of Horrors, and where he teaches conducting, Opera Workshop, and Musical Theater Workshop.

Hansen earned a bachelor of music in piano performance from Simpson College and a master of music in piano performance from University of Missouri–Kansas City Conservatory of Music; he was a fellowship artist with the Juilliard Opera Center. He was the music administrator of the Pittsburgh Opera Center at Duquesne and served on the musical staffs of Lyric Opera of Chicago, the Juilliard Opera Center, Tulsa Opera, Opera Memphis, Pittsburgh Opera, Des Moines Metro Opera, and Opera Iowa. For two seasons, he was resident conductor for the Ash Lawn–Highland Summer Festival in Charlottesville, Virginia.

For the past two seasons, Hansen was the director of the Young American Artist program at Glimmerglass Opera. In addition to his duties as director, he served as chorus master for the world premieres of Central Park and Lillith, conducted the American premiere of Beethoven’s Chorale Finale to the Ninth Symphony as arranged by Richard Wagner for 24 soloists and piano, and performed as pianist in over a dozen recitals. He has recently been appointed music director of the Opera Festival of New Jersey.

Hansen is the assistant editor of the new G. Schirmer operatic anthology series and the research assistant for volume 2 of The Singer’s Musical Theatre Anthology; he was the pianist for a recorded set of brass methods with the Canadian Brass. He resides in Ithaca with his wife, Elizabeth Koch, and son Iain. His upcoming engagements include stage directing The Many Faces Of Love/Suor Angelica at Ithaca College and making his debut at Opera Festival of New Jersey, where he will conduct the world premiere of Frank Lewin’s Burning Bright this July.

Exciting performances in an extraordinarily wide range of repertoires are the mark of conductor Charles Peltz. His performances of operas and operettas, appearances with orchestras and chamber orchestras, and recordings and broadcasts of cutting-edge contemporary music have earned him critical praise in Europe, Canada, and the United States. As principal conductor of Musicisti Americani, a summer festival in Rome and Sulmona, Italy, his performances drew the enthusiastic praise of the Italian press: “He draws haunting sounds from the orchestra . . . in finely judged performances.” The American press is equally impressed, noting a “special sensitivity which Peltz clearly has.”

Peltz holds a master of music degree from the New England Conservatory of Music, from which he graduated with distinction in performance and highest academic honors, and a bachelor of music degree from Ithaca College, where he studied with marimba virtuoso Gordon Stout. His teachers include Murry Sidlin at the Aspen Music Festival, Frank Battisti, Pamela Gearhart, Richard Woitach, and Donald Hunsberger. As an award-winning educator, Peltz has held positions at Harvard and the State University of New York at Buffalo, as well as at Ithaca College. His tenure as music director of the Syracuse Symphony Youth Orchestra brought notice to that group for its work with world-renowned composers, including Lukas Foss, Joan Tower, Michael Colgrass, Augusta Read Thomas, Chou Wen Chung, and Karel Husa. He is also a frequent conductor of youth honors orchestras and bands, and he serves as the director of orchestras at the Luzerne Music Center summer music school.

Peltz is currently the music director of the Glens Falls Symphony Orchestra and the director of wind ensembles at the New England Conservatory of Music. He was formerly a staff conductor with both the Syracuse Symphony and the Buffalo Opera Company. In recent seasons his guest conducting has included both orchestra and opera at the Hartt School and new music projects with composers Lukas Foss, John Harbison, James McMillan, and Enchanted Circle. He has appeared with the Boston Academy of Music and the Merrick Symphony of Long Island. Past seasons have included appearances with the Pacific Symphony, Hamilton Philharmonic, Buffalo Philharmonic, New Jersey Ballet, and Delaware Valley Philharmonic and numerous concerts with the North American New Music Festival. Peltz records on the MODE label, and 1999 saw the release of a fifth new recording of his work.
Gordon Stout is a professor of percussion at Ithaca College. A composer as well as a percussionist specializing in marimba, he studied composition with Samuel Adler and Warren Benson and percussion with James Salmon and John Beck. As a composer-recitalist he has premiered a number of his original compositions, as well as works by other contemporary composers. Many of his compositions for marimba are published and have become standard repertoire for marimbists worldwide. Stout has recorded both his own music and the work of important American composers. His recordings include Stout: Music for Solo Marimba (Studio 4 Productions), Gordon Stout II (Studio 4 Productions), Alec Wilder’s Music for Marimba with Other Instruments (Golden Crest Records), Nola: The Eastman Marimba Band (Mercury Golden Imports), New Music Series, Volume 2 (Neuma Records), Perpetual—Michael Burritt (Peppermint Artists Productions), and Images of Chagall—Meyer Kupferman (Soundspells Productions). A frequent lecture-recitalist for the Percussive Arts Society, Stout has appeared as featured marimbist at 11 international PAS conventions and throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico, Europe, and Japan.

Dana Wilson is a composer, jazz pianist, and conductor with many commissioned works to his credit. His compositions have been performed throughout the United States, Europe, and East Asia. They have received several awards, including the 1998 International Trumpet Guild first prize, the Sudler International Composition Prize, and the Ostwald Composition Prize. Wilson’s compositions are published by Boosey and Hawkes, Ludwig Music Publishers, and Dorn Publications; they can be heard on Klavier, Albany, Summit, Open Loop, Mark, Redwood, Musical Heritage Society, and Kosei recordings. Wilson holds a doctorate from the Eastman School of Music and is currently Charles A. Dana Professor of Music at Ithaca College. He is coauthor of Contemporary Choral Arranging (Simon and Schuster), as well as the author of many articles on musical subjects. He has been a fellow at Yaddo, the retreat for artists in Saratoga Springs, New York; a Wye fellow at the Aspen Institute; a Dana fellow; and a fellow at the Society for Humanities at Cornell University. He has received grants from the National Endowment for the Arts, New York Foundation for the Arts, New England Foundation for the Arts, New York State Council for the Arts, Arts Midwest, and Meet the Composer.

ITHACA FOREVER

Music: Philip J. Lang '33

Ithaca, forever shine your light on me,
In my heart together we shall always be.
And here’s to Ithaca, my Ithaca, how beautiful you are:
Your towers high upon South Hill reach from stone to star.

Ithaca, forever I’ll recall a smile,
Clasp a hand in friendship, walk a snowy mile.
And here’s to Ithaca, my Ithaca, alma mater true,
Although I leave Cayuga’s shore, I’ll remember you.

Ithaca, forever guide us on our way,
Like a shining beacon, light our night and day.
And here’s to Ithaca, my Ithaca, how bright your vision seems;
May all your sons and daughters dare to live their dreams.

Ithaca Forever was composed by Philip Lang ’33, orchestrator of dozens of Broadway’s best-loved musicals, including Hello Dolly, 42nd Street, and Annie. Collaborating with professional lyricist Alicia Carpenter, who has published over 150 works in education and symphonic/choral music, Lang completed the piece in 1984, two years after accepting then-president James J. Whalen’s invitation to compose a song that could be used for special College occasions.

The work was first played by the Faculty Brass Quintet at the 1984 freshman convocation. Tonight’s performance by the choir and orchestra is an arrangement by professor of music Dana Wilson, commissioned by the College in 1986.

Join Us for Fireworks

Following the concert, all are invited to close the night with refreshments on the academic quad from 9:30–11:30 p.m., highlighted by a fireworks display.
