Janet Galván, Director of Choral Activities at Ithaca College, has conducted professional and university orchestras including Virtuosi Pragenses, the Madrid Chamber Orchestra, and the Cayuga Chamber Orchestra in choral/orchestral performances. She has conducted national, divisional, and state choruses throughout the country for the American Choral Directors Association (ACDA), National Association for Music Educators, and the Organization of American Kodály Educators. She has conducted in venues such as Carnegie Hall, Lincoln Center's Alice Tully Hall and Avery Fisher Hall, Boston's Symphony Hall, Washington's Constitution Hall, Minneapolis' Symphony Hall, Pittsburgh's Heinz Hall, and Nashville's Schermerhorn Symphony Center. She has also conducted and led masterclasses in Ireland, The United Kingdom, Canada, Brazil, and throughout Europe, as well as at national music conferences and the World Symposium on Choral Music. Galván was the sixth national honor choir conductor for ACDA, and was the conductor of the North American Children's Choir which performed annually in Carnegie Hall. She was also a guest conductor for the Mormon Tabernacle Choir. She was also on the faculty for the Carnegie Hall Choral Institute, the Transient Glory Symposium and the Oberlin Conducting Institute. Galván was awarded the Ithaca College Faculty Excellence Award for teaching, scholarship, and service in the spring of 2018. She was presented the 3rd Distinguished Alumni Award in Music Education and Choral Music from the University of North Carolina in 2016, and she received the NY ACDA Outstanding Choral Director Award.

Norm Johnson retired from full-time teaching at Ithaca College last spring. Aside from his continuing involvement with FLEFF, he directed this season's Menotti One-Acts and will direct Dido and Aeneas next season as well. Other projects include scenic designs for Opera Ithaca and the Ithaca Shakespeare Company and directing Kathleen Mulligan in The Belle of Amherst in Beirut in the fall. Many thanks to Janet Galvan for the invitation to be a part of this stunning work!

Currently in his second year on the Ithaca College faculty, Dr. Dann Coakwell has been praised as a "clear-voiced and eloquent ... vivid storyteller" (The New York Times), with "a gorgeous lyric tenor that could threaten or caress on the turn of a dime" (The Dallas Morning News). He can be heard as a soloist on the Grammy-winning album, The Sacred Spirit of Russia (Harmonia Mundi 2014), the Grammy-nominated Considering Matthew Shepard (Harmonia Mundi 2016), by composer Craig Hella Johnson, and the critically praised premiere of composer Mohammed Fairouz's Zabur (Naxos 2016), with the Indianapolis Symphony Choir and Orchestra. Coakwell has performed as a soloist across Europe, Japan, and throughout the Americas, under renowned conductors such as Helmuth Rilling, Masaaki Suzuki, William Christie, Nicholas McGegan, Matthew Halls, María Guinand, and Craig Hella Johnson, among many others. Regularly appearing in prominent New York venues such as Carnegie Hall and Lincoln Center, he has also performed as a soloist with acclaimed organizations such as Internationale Bachakademie Stuttgart in Germany, Bach Collegium Japan, Orquesta Sinfónica de Venezuela, Pacific Baroque Orchestra, Oregon Bach Festival, Conspirare, Philharmonia Baroque Orchestra in San Francisco, Portland Baroque Orchestra, Indianapolis Baroque Orchestra, and the symphony/philharmonic orchestras of Kansas City, Nashville, Charlotte, Indianapolis, and Quad Cities.

“Introduction” from OCTOBER MOURNING: A SONG FOR MATTHEW SHEPARD by Lesléa Newman

On Tuesday, October 6, 1998, at approximately 11:45 p.m., twenty-one-year-old Matthew Shepard, a gay college student attending the University of Wyoming, was kidnapped from a bar by twenty-one-year old Aaron McKinney and twenty-one-year-old Russell Henderson. Pretending to be gay, the two men lured Matthew Shepard into their truck, drove him to the outskirts of Laramie, robbed him, beat him with a pistol, tied him to a buck-rail fence, and left him to die. The next day, at about 6:00 p.m. - eighteen hours after the attack - he was discovered and taken to a hospital. He never regained consciousness and died five days later, on Monday, October 12, with his family by his side.

One of the last things Matthew Shepard did that Tuesday night was attend a meeting of the University of Wyoming’s Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgendered Association. The group was putting final touches on plans for Gay Awareness Week, scheduled to begin the following Sunday, October 11, coinciding with a National Coming Out Day. Planned campus activities included a film showing, an open poetry reading, and a keynote speaker.

That keynote speaker was me.

I never forgot what happened in Laramie, and around the tenth anniversary of Matthew Shepard’s death, I found myself thinking more and more about him. And so I began writing a series of poems, striving to create a work of art that explores the events surrounding Matthew Shepard’s murder in order to gain a better understanding of their impact on myself and the world.

What really happened at the fence that night? Only three people know the answer to that question. Two of them are imprisoned, convicted murderers whose stories often contradict each other (for example, in separate interviews both McKinney and Henderson have claimed that he alone tied Matthew Shepard to the fence). The other person who knows what really happened that night is dead. We will never know his side of the story.

This book is my side of the story.

While the poems in this book are inspired by actual events, they do not in any way represent the statements, thoughts, feelings, opinions, or attitudes of any actual person. The statements, thoughts, feelings, opinions, and attitudes conveyed belong to me. All monologues contained within the poems are figments of my imagination; no actual person spoke any of the words contained within the body of any poem. Those words are mine and mine alone. When the words of an actual person are used as a short epigraph for a poem, the source of that quote is cited at the back of the book in a section entitled “Notes,” which contains citations and suggestions for further reading about the crime. The poems, which are meant to be read in sequential order as one whole work, are a work of poetic invention and imagination: a historical novel in verse. The poems are not an objective reporting of Matthew Shepard’s murder and its aftermath; rather they are my own personal interpretation of them.

There is a bench on the campus of the University of Wyoming dedicated to Matthew Shepard, inscribed with the words He continues to make a difference. My hope is that readers of October Mourning: A Song for Matthew Shepard will be inspired to make a difference and honor his legacy by erasing hate and replacing it with compassion, understanding, and love.
