Ottorino Respighi, 1879-1936

Respighi's cantata Lauda per la Natività del Signore, a setting of a text by the 13th century Franciscan friar Jacopone da Todi, was composed in 1930 and was first performed on November 22 of that year in Siena, under the direction of the composer. Jacopone da Todi was a 13th-century Franciscan poet who dedicated his life to writing poetry of praise after the tragic death of his wife.

The Lauda per la Natività del Signore (or Laud for the Nativity) is a beautiful pastoral work that depicts the nativity of Jesus as the shepherds might have seen it. Ottorino Respighi's music has been described as "new old music." He used his talent for evoking poetic images to the forms, techniques and melodic lines of early Italian music. This trait puts this piece on the list of choral innovations, the theme for the 2008-09 chorus season. In this work, he employed several archaic forms and devices: madrigals ("Contenti ne andremo"), Monteverdi-like arioso ("Seignor tu sei descieso"), some plainchant, and even a touch of fugue in the "Gloria" section. He was uniquely successful in clothing the best of the Italian musical past in the luminous harmonies and instrumental colors of the present. He wanted to compose music that would speak to Italians about all aspects of their beloved country in a musical language that was beautiful and easy for ordinary people to accept and enjoy. He is best known for his highly descriptive symphonic poems, Fountains of Rome, Pines of Rome and Roman Festivals, which are wonderful examples of his style, embody his musical ideals, and bring the spirit and history of the city of Rome powerfully and vividly to life.

Translation:

Angel: Fear not, shepherds, abiding here on the hillsides of Judea's regions. I bring you a tiding. Joy to mankind. Born in the city of David to a virgin, the savior. God appointed him to come from Heaven that you might be saved.

Chorus: And of this a sign in a lowly stall, the poor baby is born inn a manger in the midst of animals. His mother is poorly clad and has laid him in a manger with only straw to cover him. He descended from Heaven as a lowly humble one.

Shepherd: O Lord, how thou has descended to earth from heaven as angels sang in chorus. Our preparation to welcome thee is poor.

Shepherds (men's chorus): Here is the stable. We see the poor baby and the blessed Virgin. She has neither food nor clothing in which to wrap the baby. Joseph cannot help her because he is old and feeble.
Mary: My child, sweet be thy slumber, thought you must lie in a manger. Bright angels hover around thee, guarding you from danger. My son, with what affection I gaze upon thee! Filled with awe on Thy birth I ponder. Beholding Thy perfection, I am removed far from poverty and sadness. My heart is filled with gladness for joy far greater than my maternal joy comes from Thee.

Chorus: Oh fountain of joy to such poverty you have bowed.

Shepherds (men's chorus) Take our cloaks for the baby. Don’t be repelled by the garments of poverty worn in our work with flocks in the field. Wrap your son in them so that the smell of hay will not be on his pure flesh. Lord, since you have deigned to be born in poverty, Give light to all people so that no one will be ungrateful.

Chorus: Content we will leave if we can touch Him for a moment. This favor we ask. We who are only simple shepherds.

Glory and honor O Lord of Heaven. Praise and honor to you, omnipotent God and on earth peace to those of good will. To a guilty world you have given yourself not out of duty but only for your pleasure. We praise you Lord. We glorify your majesty.

Mary: Upon me God bestowed His favor, and I shall never cease to praise and honor him. I bore to men a savior who shall be king of the earth and heaven forever. I bow in humble devotion over the child who has come to save us from error. No rose was ever fairer. His beauty fills my soul with pure emotion. My thoughts I cannot capture. My spirit lifts in rapture. It soars ever for born is the promised Messiah!

Program Notes - Women’s Chorale

Little Tree is a setting of three poems by e.e. cummings. The set was commissioned by the Young People’s Chorus of New York City as part of the Transient Glory Series.

Little Tree expresses concern for the small tree taken from the forest, and the child’s joy at taking care of the tree “just like your mother would” and dressing the tree in beautiful sparkles. Finally, the child and the little sister dance in joy looking at the beautiful tree.

I Carry Your Heart expresses deep love.

Now is a ship expresses the journey toward a dream. The clusters of pitches in the second half of the piece evoke a dream-like feeling.
