ITHACA, NEW YORK

1930
FOREWORD

To crowd within the covers of this book a host of memories to help you to recall your ambitions and accomplishments, and to portray the activities of this year in the life of the Ithaca Conservatory and Affiliated Schools is the purpose of the 1930 Cayugan.
DEDICATION

TO the faculty and student bodies, whose spirit of achievement is making possible the fulfillment of the Vision of our Founder, the Staff of 1930 dedicates this book.
Patrick Conway
1867-1929

To the memory of one who has passed from mortal sight, but whose spirit of simplicity and greatness will ever be an inspiration to all who knew him, this space is respectfully dedicated.

June 10, 1929, Patrick Conway, beloved Director of the Band School passed on, leaving the world both richer and poorer in the passing; richer because of the heights he attained, the ideals he made practical, the genuineness of his friendship, his modesty in success, and because he gave the world a name which will ever be classed with renowned Band Leaders;—poorer because his own distinguished and magnetic personality is now but a memory, and because an important position in the musical profession is left vacant.

Patrick Conway was a friend to all, and the students of this institution loved him. Let us pause for a moment to express gratitude for the privilege of our brief association with this great man, and strive to emulate his many fine characteristics.

Activities
The Inter-fraternity vaudeville presentations, The Scampers of 1930, proved to be one of the year's outstanding entertainments. On March 10 and 11 seven first class vaudeville acts graced the stage of Little Theatre, the auditorium of which was filled to capacity by people interested in the annual competition. The decision of the judges was announced at the close of the program on the second evening, and they selected as winners the members of Mu Phi Epsilon. Their presentation was entitled, Apologies to Richard Haliburton, and was a colorful combination of song and dance specialties. For fifteen minutes the girls entertained with music representative of the leading countries of the world. Their work was beautifully costumed and reflected ability and labor.

Honorable mention was granted to Phi Mu Alpha whose act was entitled, On Waves of Ether. Their offering was a radio-television broadcast which took the form of a minstrel show. Music by their own dance orchestra, dancing and comedy composed their offering.

Sigma Alpha Iota had for their offering a very attractive presentation named The Song Review and during the time allotted them their listeners were treated to a program of classic music, ballads, and dance music. Their entrances were effected from huge books located at the rear of the stage. The music was supplemented by a large chorus of dancers.

The Amard offering was unique. It was entitled Satan's Holiday and depicted that fellow's doings with the sculptured figures in an art gallery. For a quarter of an hour certain marble masterpieces were given real life and their activity during this time formed the basis of the Amards' act.

The Kappa Gamma Psi men are to be complimented on the excellence of their initial Scampers offering entitled A Version of Modern Salome. During the course of their act were introduced everything from a pre-historic telegraph service to guillotines,—not to mention the Dance of the Seven Veils.

Gambles of the Dwarfs, the presentation of the girls of Phi Delta Pi proved to be an entertaining offering of dancing and queer doing among the sprightly creatures of dwarfland.

The Phi Epsilon Kappa representatives offered Acrobatic Minstrels, an act in which the gentlemen of Physical Education displayed plenty of skill and prowess.
The monotony of books was appropriately relieved during the year by numerous brilliant social events. Outstanding among these were the Public School Music formal dance, the Twelfth Night Revels, and the Junior Prom. The Public School Music dance occurred in the ballroom of the Ithaca hotel and was presented by Dean Brown and members of his department. The delightful surroundings, the excellent music by Wes Thomas and his dance orchestra and the genial hospitality of Dean Brown contributed to the success of a most delightful occasion.

The annual Amard celebration of the Twelfth Night took place in Elocution Hall. Amid decorations which completely transformed the auditorium, the Revels program progressed in true Shakespearean style. Following the banquet the revelers proceeded to the auditorium of Little Theatre where their program was continued.

Custom seems to have decreed that the Junior Prom shall be the season’s outstanding social event. And so it was for the students of Ithaca Conservatory and Affiliated Schools. The gymnasium at the Physical Education school was the scene of the affair and the hall was so brilliantly decorated one failed to recognize it as the stronghold of the Ispies. The decorations were modernistic in design and the plan was most complete. The walls were covered with innumerable odd shaped insignia of silver and black and from the ceiling were suspended wide draperies of black and white. Excellent lighting effects added to the enjoyment of the dance, music for which was furnished by the Wes Thomas organization.

The Prom was a gay climax for the events of Bloc Week. During the week of February 10-15 books were laid aside in favor of tea-dances. At one time or another during that week each fraternity sponsored a tea dance for I. C. M. students. A breakfast dance, after the Prom, was the week’s concluding event. It was held in the Bank restaurant.

Bloc Week activities were planned and sponsored by members of the Student Council. The success of the enterprise was entirely apparent and reflected careful planning and consideration.

During the year many informal dances were held in the gym. Many of these were sponsored by the classes of I. C. M. There were several fraternity affairs as well.
Members of the Williams School may be credited for a most successful year's work. Their productions opened with "Tommy," a three act comedy which appeared in Little Theatre in early November. "Are You a Mason" was the second offering of the season and was followed by a religious drama, "The Rock." The season's only Shakespearian production, "The Merchant of Venice," rang down the curtain on the Williams School's first term activities.

The Spring term presentations started with "The Brat," a three act comedy which was followed by "The Other Mr. Smith," a farce. The third production of the term was "The Inner Circle" and the only mystery play shown in Little Theatre during the school year. Three comedies, "The Famous Mrs. Fair," "The Queen's Husband," and "Rip Van Winkle" are scheduled for presentation before the close of the season.

Directors in charge of the Williams School presentations were Dean R. A. Tallcott and A. L. Sisson. A. D. Chadwick was the scenic artist. Music for the plays was furnished by the Phi Mu Alpha Little Theatre orchestra, which was under the direction of Paul Lester.

Three plays were given in Little Theatre during the Spring term in which were featured Albert McGovern and Ethel Wayland, stock artists of wide repute. The plays were presented in successive weeks and were entitled "This Thing Called Love," "Jonesy," and "The Acquittal." Williams School players were seen in the supporting roles.
In addition to these, concerts have been given by the following student organizations: Ithaca Military Band, under the direction of Dean Earnest Williams, The Girls' Glee Club, conducted by Mr. Joseph Lautner, and the Westminster Choir under the direction of Dr. John Finley Williamson. Concert tours have been made throughout the year, and in May, the Westminster Choir toured the middle west.
During the year 1929-30, the following concerts have been given: Lo Rean Hodapp, soprano, and John Gauis Bamugartner, baritone, in a joint recital on October 29; William Coad, violinist, November 4; Oscar Zeigler, pianist, November 11; Mar­jorie Beeby, mezzo-contralto, in a “Recital of Songs,” December 9; and Francis Mac­Millan, violinist, in a private recital, March 4.
Organizations
Once-A-Week

The Once-A-Week is the official weekly publication of the Ithaca Conservatory and Affiliated Schools. It is published every Thursday and endeavors to keep the students in touch with the current activities at school, and with the things which the students and faculty are doing outside the school. It endeavors to maintain a policy of cooperation—cooperation with the students and faculty—to the end that Ithaca Conservatory and Affiliated Schools may grow and prosper.

Athletic Association
The Women's Self Government Association is an organization whose membership includes every woman of the school. The very nature of its organization places the responsibility for the success of self government in the hands of each of its members. One of the most important functions of the Association is the handling of the "Big Sister Movement," which serves as a means of helping each girl entering the school for the first time to become acquainted with the school and the other students.

Athletic Association

In this, our first year of existence, the Athletic Association, feels that it has made a good beginning toward accomplishing its aim, which is—"to foster the athletic activities of our schools, and to maintain honor and fair play among all its representatives, to award adequately to all who honorably represent our schools in athletic competition."

Due to the work of Dean Hill and Coach Carl Chamberlain the basketball team was well organized before the Association was established. It became our privilege to stimulate interest among the undergraduates in other lines of sport. As a result we had a wrestling team which did exceptionally well for the short time they had to prepare for their bouts. This victory brought on another and we have since developed interest in track and baseball, the schedules for which are arranged by the various managers. We are looking to these managers to arrange such interesting games with our contemporary schools, that the second year of our Association will be even more successful than has been the first.

Officers for this year are:

Inter-Fraternity Council

The Inter-Fraternity Council, which is composed of one member from each fraternity, was organized this year for the purpose of settling any controversies that might arise concerning the fraternities and sororities. The aim is to promote a congenial and social relationship among the organizations.

The Oracle is the Senior Honorary Society of the Conservatory and Affiliated Schools, and is one of the most significant of our school organizations. Membership in the society is dependent upon general scholarship, manifestation of sound character, and participation in group activities. Membership is drawn equally from all the schools, and this fact tends to weld our affiliations into a deeper and sympathetic bond.

DONALD REINSMITH, JUNIOR
ALVA OGSBURY, JUNIOR
Martin Institute For Speech Correction

In 1921, Dr. Frederick Van Dover Martin organized the Martin Institute for Speech Correction as an affiliated school with the Conservatory. Dr. Martin, upon leaving college, intended to study medicine but because he, himself, was an acute stammerer, decided to spend the next few years abroad in the clinic of Cherrin, France where he was finally cured of his stammering.

Dr. Martin's experience in the speech field has been wide and varied and he has held many important positions in various hospitals and clinics. At one time he acted as President of the National Round Table for Speech Improvement, and two summers ago he was invited to lecture in Paris on "Child Psychology".

Besides a thorough and scientific course in the correction of speech defects, Dr. Martin has instituted perhaps the only course of its kind for teachers of speech correction. It has long been his desire to have an institute in the form of a residential home; which would enable him to have his cases under his personal observation during the entire course of their correction. And so it is in his home—his clinic—that this wonderful work is being done every day. There is no age limit for the patients in Dr. Martin's school, and one finds here varying ages, from school children up to business and professional men.

It is a marvelous humanitarian spirit which permeates the work in Martin Hall and we are indeed happy to have Dr. Martin with us to claim Martin Institute as one of our Affiliated Schools.
Athletics
Athletics

The basket-ball team, composed entirely of students in the Ithaca School of Physical Education, was phenomenally successful during the 1929-30 court season. The schedule called for fifteen games and at the end of the season the Ispies had been victors in every tilt but four. Eleven victories and four defeats. This truly is a record in which our athletes may take pride. Especially is it significant when consideration is given the fact that the season was the first in which the Ispies engaged in intercollegiate basket ball.

The outstanding victory of the season occurred in Burlington, Vermont, where the Ithacans defeated the strong team of the University of Vermont. Other noteworthy defeats were those administered to Brockport Normal and Rochester Mechanics Institute, each of these cities' teams having enjoyed undefeated seasons before tackling the Ispies.

A strong wrestling team represented the school in several early spring contests. The Phy Ed men were forced to split evenly in the two contests with Cortland. Their two meets with the ithaca Y. M. C. A. resulted similarly.

The baseball season will find the Ispies facing a small schedule. Advance reports indicate that they will make a favorable impression on the diamond.

The basket ball results are as follows:
